

Canon five

An Arbitrator should make decisions in a just, independent and deliberate manner.

- A. An Arbitrator should, after careful deliberation, decide all issues submitted for determination and not other issues.
- B. An Arbitrator should not delegate to any other person the duty to decide.
- C. In the event that all parties agree upon a settlement of the issues in dispute and ask an Arbitrator to embody that agreement in an award, an Arbitrator may do so, but is not required to do so unless satisfied with the propriety of the terms of the agreement. Whenever an Arbitrator embodies a settlement in an award, the Arbitrator should state in the award that it is based on an agreement of the parties.
